Exhibitions for the “Schwabing Art Trove”

The Federal Republic of Germany's art museum and exhibition space (Bundeskunsthalle) in Bonn and the Kunstmuseum Bern will no longer be realizing their joint exhibition plans this year following the Munich Higher Regional Court's (OLG) decision on the inheritance case of Cornelius Gurlitt yesterday.

Both museums are still pursuing the project and continuously working toward the exhibition. It is now scheduled to take place in 2017.
